Description:	A fine, ruby red quality wine from Bergerac, with a dominance of the typical characteristics of the Merlot grape. In the nose, we find clear traces of the terroir, combined with aromas ripe red fruit. Powerful tannins in the mouth, in perfect harmony with the acidity and the alcohol. Maturation in concrete tanks for 18 months. Château Gramboy has a surface of ca 22 ha extended over the districts of Bergerac and Monbazillac. The property belongs to the family Lajonie, one of the oldest and most respectable wine grower families of this region. Each harvest takes place entirely manual with a very strict selection before the compression of the grapes takes place. The average age of the vines is 45 years.
